

ALEX PRICE

Peter Blum Family YMCA
Board Member

National Director of Community
Investment at Office Depot

“The Y is a place where you connect on a personal level.”

WHERE IN THE Y...?

Back in 2013, my longtime friend (and former boss) Bob Tucker of ADT encouraged me to pick one charitable organization in the community to get involved in. Having young children and believing deeply in the Y's programs on a personal level, I chose the YMCA of South Palm Beach County. Since joining the Board of the Peter Blum Family YMCA, my area of focus has been getting involved in major events and raising funds for YMCA programs.

I believe that it's NEVER been more important to “build a source of deep community” in our South Florida region and all over the nation. People have never been more disconnected; anxiety, loneliness and isolation are at epidemic levels and options for wholesome, value-driven community have never been fewer. I know that my family needs this community that the Y is building, and I know my neighbors here desperately need it too. And for our neighbors with economic, physical and social needs, the Y is there for them like no one else.

For more information about the YMCA, visit: YMCASPBC.ORG

